6. Once a student has been matriculated in the GMBA program, the student may be allowed for credit/course transfer. These transfer credits, which are subject to review for approval, can become credit waivers for partial courses in the GMBA program. Please be aware of the following limitations:
 - A. The total credit waivers cannot exceed 9 credit hours. The transfer credit must be defined as graduate-level and earned with a B or better grade (at least 70 out of 100 points).

One of the advisors must be in the College of Management at NYCU; otherwise, the application needs to be approved by the director. If a graduate student intends to change his/her thesis advisor during his/her studies, he/she should apply in writing to the Program 4 months before graduation and such change of advisor will become effective after notifying the former thesis advisor; also, the consent of the former thesis advisor is not required. When a graduate student applies for the replacement of a thesis advisor in accordance with the Guidelines, the graduate student may not have the original ideas or concepts provided by the former thesis advisor and the research results obtained under the guidance of the former thesis advisor used for the dissertation without the consent of the former thesis advisor. If an advisor wants to terminate the mentorship relationship, he or she should submit an application form to the GMBA program, and the program committee will notify the students after review and approval. If there are uncovered matters or disputes, students should follow the "NYCU Guidelines for the Interaction between Thesis Advisor and Graduate Students".
8. A master thesis (including the abstract) should be written in English, and it should meet the formatting requirements for master theses or doctoral dissertations of the university. After a student passes the degree examination, he/she should upload the electronic file of his/her thesis and its abstract to the certain archive (following the regulations of NYCU Electronic Theses and Dissertations System) and submit two printed copies of the thesis to the GMBA Office. Students should submit his/her printed copies by the last working day before the next semester classes begin. A student who fails to submit the printed copies by the due date and does not reach the limit on the period of study should enroll him/herself in the university in the following semester. A student who fails to submit his/her "NYCU Thesis Defense Grading Sheet" in the semester when he/she reaches the limit on the period of study or fails to submit the printed copies of the thesis by the last working day before the next semester begins will be dismissed.

9. After passing the degree examination, a student should submit his/her "NYCU Thesis Defense Grading Sheet" to the Registration Division in the semester when he/she takes the examination. The due date in the Fall Semester is January 31st, and the due date in the Spring Semester is July 31st. When a student fails the degree examination, if he/she does not reach the limit on the period of study, he/she may take the examination again in the next semester or the next academic year. A student is limited to retake the examination once. If the student still fails the examination which is retaken, then the student will be dismissed.
10. Students are required to fulfill an internship in a multi-national company and provide the GMBA office with relevant documentation before graduation. Students who complete an internship must submit a certificate of internship participation. The period of internship should be at least 4 weeks. For a request of special consideration, students should seek approval from the director of GMBA.
11. To be qualified for the application of scholarship, the student must be a full-time student. Full-time students must take at least three courses (9 credit hours) each semester for the first year, and at least two courses (6 credit hours) in addition to the thesis work each semester for the second year.
12. Outstanding students, who meet all the graduation requirements in the second or third semester of study, can apply for early graduation. The student can be granted his/her degree after the application being reviewed by "the Committee of the GMBA program" and approved by the Office of Academic Affairs.

5.2.6 Working in Taiwan

There are many excellent internship and work opportunities available to foreigners in Taiwan. National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University and the GMBA program have proven themselves to be stepping stones for international students establishing their careers in Taiwan and Asia. However, please note that as an international student at NYCU you are not to engage in work without prior to receiving permission from the Workforce Development Agency of the Ministry of Labor (勞動部勞動力發展署).

Foreign citizens working illegally in Taiwan are liable to a fine between NT$ 30,000 and 150,000 and/or deportation to their home country. Receiving remuneration, the amount of remuneration, or the number of working hours is irrelevant for the determination of a working situation by the relevant enforcement agencies.

After attending NYCU for two semesters as a full-time student, you may apply for a part-time work permit (< 20 hours per week). Contact the Division of International and Cross-Strait Services (國際及兩岸服務組) for more information on the relevant procedures. Remember to apply for a work permit in time before your internship in Taiwan commences. Under certain circumstances, NYCU/MOFA/MOE scholarship recipients may be excluded from applying for a work permit. Please clarify specific details with the unit in charge of your scholarship to ensure continued eligibility.

5.3 Health Insurance (International Students)

International students should pay special attention to the following sections on health insurance in Taiwan. Individual situations may vary, and the information provided herein only constitutes a general introduction. Regulations for Overseas Chinese, Mainland Chinese, or Hong Kong / Macau students may differ, please contact the Division of International and Cross-Strait Services (國際及兩岸服務組) for information pertaining your situation. Local students need not follow the procedures described herein.

5.3.1 National Health Insurance

The ROC Government has instituted a single-payer healthcare system. In principle, all persons resident in Taiwan, both citizens and foreigners alike, should contribute to the National Health Insurance (NHI 全民健康保險). The NHI offers affordable and high-quality comprehensive healthcare in all situations, ranging from outpatient clinics to inpatient hospital stays.

International students who, after entering Taiwan and having applied for an ARC, have stayed in Taiwan for six consecutive months, or exited Taiwan not more than once for a duration of less than 30 days within the period of stay amounting to six months, after deducting the number of days that they have been absent from Taiwan, may apply for NHI through the university or the local district office.

Monthly NHI premiums currently amount to NT$ 826 and NYCU collects 6 months of premiums in advance, which will generally be stated on your tuition fee bill. Please note that in addition to monthly premiums, a copayment fee is applicable each time you see a doctor.

Enrollment in the NHI is mandatory and anyone who qualifies for the program must enroll. Any qualified person who does not enroll is subject to a fine of NT$3,000 to NT$15,000. In addition, such person is required to pay the full premiums starting from the date they should have been enrolled. No benefits will be offered before outstanding premiums are paid in full. If fined, a notice of penalty violation will be delivered in writing and the fine must be paid on time. If the fines imposed remain unpaid, after a given period of time the case will be referred to the courts for compulsory enforcement.

NYCU handles the enrollment of international students. Please pay attention to any announcements by NYCU regarding NHI enrollment and prepare the necessary application documents as advised in announcements.

5.3.2 International student Health Insurance

According to art. 22 of the Regulations Regarding International Students Undertaking Studies in Taiwan (外國學生來臺就學辦法), at the time of registration a new incoming international student shall present proof of medical and injury insurance coverage which is valid for at least 6 months from the date the student enters Taiwan. Insurance documents issued by overseas insurance providers must be verified by a Taipei Representative Office abroad. Failing to provide proof of insurance coverage necessitates enrollment in the International Student Health Insurance policy provided by NYCU. Please consult with the Division of International and Cross-Strait Services (國際及兩岸服務組) for enrollment and reimbursement information.

5.3.3 Student Group Insurance

In addition to the compulsory NHI health insurance coverage, your tuition bill includes an accident insurance policy, or Student Group Insurance. The premium currently amounts to NT$ 151.

At the end of the contract term, the deposit will be refunded. A cellular plan with voice calls and unlimited mobile Internet will be in the range of NT$ 500 to 1,000. To apply for a cellular plan, please prepare the following documents:
